HOW TO USE THIS MAP

This map works in conjunction with the festival guidebook and the Philagrafika 2010 website to help you navigate and discover the wealth of exhibitions and programs occurring throughout the city and region.

The three festival components are color coded to help you identify the projects:

The Graphic Unconscious

Out of Print

Independent Projects

In addition to the color identification, the map includes a number and a map coordinate next to each of the partners/venues. This code works to help find sites easily on the map but also corresponds to the Philagrafika 2010 guidebook on each partner/venue page. For instance, the listing for The Print Center is identified by the color orange for The Graphic Unconscious and as number 4 on this map. The number 4 also appears on page # _____ in the guidebook along with the map coordinates and a detailed description of the exhibition and programming happening at The Print Center.

The Philagrafika 2010 Guidebook can be purchased online at www.philagrafika2010.org and at select partner venue locations.

PHILAGRAFIKA 2010

Philagrafika 2010 is an international festival that celebrates the role of print as a vital force in contemporary art, running from January 29 through April 11, 2010 throughout the city of Philadelphia. Set to be one of the largest arts events in the United States, Philagrafika 2010 showcases the work of more than 350 artists and unites 88 Philadelphia area art institutions in the inaugural presentation of what will become a recurring event, anticipated to repeat every three years. Philagrafika 2010 offers regional, national, and international audiences the opportunity to see contemporary art that references printmaking in dynamic, unexpected ways and to experience Philadelphia's rich cultural life in the process. The festival was initiated by the Philagrafika organization, formerly known as the Philadelphia Print Collaborative. Philagrafika builds upon the region's rich printmaking history and abundant artistic resources to enhance Philadelphia's presence as an international center for innovative printmaking. Philagrafika 2010 is the result of more than five years of planning, culminating in a citywide collective effort, which appropriately reflects the collaborative nature of printmaking itself. The festival is divided into three components:

The Graphic Unconscious is the core exhibition organized by Artistic Director José Roca and the curatorial Team composed by John Caperton, Sheryl Konkelton, Shelley Langdale, Lorie Mertes and Julien Robson. Works by 35 artists from 18 countries will be displayed across five main venues: Moore College of Art & Design; Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts (PAFA); Philadelphia Museum of Art; The Print Center; and Temple Gallery, Tyler School of Art, Temple University, with significant installations by different artists on view at each site.

Out of Print pairs five artists with five historic institutions in Philadelphia: the American Philosophical Society; the Historical Society of Pennsylvania; the Independence Seaport Museum; the University of Pennsylvania Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology; and the Rosenbach Museum & Library. Each artist created new work for the festival inspired by the extraordinary collection with which they were matched.

Independent Projects, organized by 78 additional cultural institutions in Philadelphia, include a huge variety of monographic, group, and thematic exhibitions in which the printed image plays a central role.
